

New Mexico Hispanic Bar Association & University of New Mexico Summer Law Camp 2018

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The University of New Mexico College Prep Programs (UNM-CPP) along with New Mexico Hispanic Bar Association (NMHBA), Engaging Latino Communities for Education (ENLACE) and the New Mexico Young Lawyers Division (NMYLD) host the Summer Law Camp. Participants get a taste of college life and develop complex skills in research, conducting a trial, critical thinking, team building, leadership and techniques of persuasion and debate during the summer residential program. At the end of the camp, participants put their new skills into action with a mock trial. Students will also witness New Mexico's legal system in action by meeting with judges and practicing attorneys and visiting the District Court. Students will reside in the UNM Residence Halls and are supervised by the College Prep Program staff. Key program components include: college experience, educational fieldtrips, law preparation curriculum, college readiness preparation curriculum, leadership and team building.
